

EH-3121—Baptist Identity and History –Dr. Robert D. Cochran
Tuesdays—6:00 – 7:55 pm; 3 credits
Hybrid (online option for Virginia students)

DESCRIPTION: Baptist Identity and History describes the common characteristics within the Baptist movement and its many denominational streams in the United States. Historical examples of Baptists principally from Europe and North America point to the roots of these common characteristics and also illustrate them.

SIGNIFICANCE FOR LIFE AND MINISTRY: Graduates who have followed this course either will act out their ministries in congregations or at certain times will be engaged with congregations. Each of these congregations, whether Baptist or not, will have an identity, often tied to a denomination. The course will prepare the students to be able to know Baptists and also give them tools to understand the identity of other similar religious groups, enabling the graduates to relate properly to these.

LEARNING OUTCOMES: Through the successful completion of this course a student will be able to:

- outline and illustrate the identity of Baptists,
  - to note similarities and dissimilarities of Baptists with other religious groups, and
  - to probe the boundaries of ministry with this knowledge.
- SLOs—1.1.2; 1.2.1; 1.2.2; 1.4.1; 3.1.2; and 3.5.2

COURSE FORMAT: Instruction will be through class lecture and discussion, reading, reflection, and writing.
